

HEMET

1003 E. Florida Avenue
Suite 101
Hemet, CA 92543
PH: (951) 652-2252

Milan S. Chakrabarty, M.D.
Board Certified Gastroenterology
Board Certified Internal Medicine

Milan S. Chakrabarty, M.D.

"Medicine has been my passion since childhood. Providing quality medical care has always been a priority to me and together with my son, GI Excellence, Inc. was formed to give to the community the quality of care that was before being sent to bigger institutions."

Dr. Milan S. Chakrabarty
First Gastroenterologist in the valley and the surrounding areas (1981).

Raised in Mumbai, India, Dr. Milan Chakrabarty came from a family of physicians. His grandfather, father and his three uncles were all Family Physicians. Motivated by his parents to follow suit, during childhood Dr. Milan would assist his father in his family practice clinic. He was tutored by his mother and began his long journey in medicine by attending Grand Medical School College, Mumbai University, Mumbai, India where he received his M.B.B.S. (M.D. Equivalent). He then joined J.J. Group of Hospitals, Mumbai University, Mumbai to achieve his Medicine Internship. He held Residency at St. George Hospital, Mumbai; Subspecialty Medical Resident Rotations at G.T. Hospital, Mumbai.

Leaving India he relocated to England where he remained the next three years as Internal Medicine Residency and Chief Resident, Internal Medicine at Mount Pleasant Hospital, Cardiff University; Swansea, Wales, U.K.

Dr. Chakrabarty then moved his wife and two children to New York where he worked as Resident Physician at Metropolitan Jewish Medical Center, Coney Island, New York; and then Internal Medicine Resident at St. Clares Hospital & Health Center, New York. He did his Gastroenterology Fellowship at Albert Einstein Medical Center & Temple University, Philadelphia, PA.

Dr. Chakrabarty uprooted his family once again and traveled to Hemet, California where he founded the GI Department in Hemet Hospital in 1981 and built Hemet Endoscopy Center in 1992. In 2004 he built the new Medical Center and state of the art Surgery Center on Florida Ave., Hemet, CA

Dr. Chakrabarty has been married for 50 years and has three sons. Two of whom are doctors and the third is an entrepreneur in all-natural health beverages. A fan of European antique collections, sculptures, painting, stamp collections and cars, the doctor is most happy to go boating, traveling and painting. His love for European art and sculptures are proudly on display within and outside the offices of GI Excellence, Inc.

EDUCATION and WORK EXPERIENCE:

- Began GI department and program in Hemet, CA, private practice, 06/1981 - present
- Albert Einstein Medical Center & Temple University, Philadelphia, PA - Gastroenterology Fellow, 07/1979 - 06/1981
- St. Clares Hospital & Health Center, New York, NY - Internal Medicine Resident, 07/1977 - 06/1979
- Metropolitan Jewish Medical Center, Coney Island, New York, NY - Resident Physician, 07/1976 - 06/1977
- Mount Pleasant Hospital, Cardiff University; Swansea, Wales, U.K. Chief Resident, Internal Medicine, 06/1975 - 06/1976
- Mount Pleasant Hospital, Cardiff University; Swansea, Wales, U.K.. Internal Medicine Resident, 01/1974 - 05/1975
- G.T. Hospital, Mumbai, India Subspecialty Medical Resident Rotations, 02/1973 - 12/1973
- St. George Hospital, Mumbai, India Medicine Resident, 08/1972 - 01/1973
- J.J. Group of Hospitals, Mumbai, India Medicine Internship, 07/1971 - 07/1972
- Grant Medical College; Mumbai University, Mumbai, India, M.B.B.S. (MD Equivalent), 07/1966 - 06/1971

Continued

